We should keep on encouraging each other to be thoughtful and to do helpful things. Some people have gotten out of the habit of meeting for worship, but we must not do that. We should keep on encouraging each other... Hebrews 10:24-25 (CEV)

Routines are one of the blessings of fall. We find a renewed sense of comfort in the rhythm and consistency of our day-to-day schedules... for a while. It often seems that in no time at all, we can be worn down by them. (What incredibly full schedules they are these days!)

This happens, in part, because our routines only control so much. Our world is ever-changing. In this season we are reminded of the beauty of this daily; each morning creation is renewed, more and more vibrant. But sometimes the changes we face aren't so beautiful. They are unexpected, or challenging, or even discouraging. We were never meant to have to handle these things alone – but rather, with people who cherish our company and a Creator who wants only to grant us comfort.

And so we want to encourage you; if you have been worshipping with us faithfully for years, if you are new to the community, or if "routine" has kept you away from the church for some time; we are thinking of you and want only to be helpful. So... Come. Come and be encouraged. Come and take the time to recognise the blessings in your world. Come and encourage others with all you have learned from your routines... Come and meet for worship...

Until next month's musings, blessings always,

Anne
